Survey Templates

Flexibility at our core

Create custom question templates for almost any kind of form with unlimited complexity and structured levels with our easy to use, drag and drop survey template designer. Templates can be created for almost any kind of form, providing a robust method of data collection, storage, and reporting.

With support for all common data entry types, ensure that you create all the customised forms your organisation needs, integrating intuitive logic to hide and show fields, add notes, pictures or actions against any fields.

Templates can be saved as 'groups' so different users can only see audit types that are relevant to their role in an organisation, allowing you to manage and distribute surveys to only the necessary people. Mobiess Insight incorporates a template publishing mechanism so that you can trial draft templates before issuing them to users and customers.

Templates can be updated by cloning the latest version and published for distribution to all users, maintaining full backwards compatibility. Archiving previous copies helps manage clear version history and control.
